Editorial

Come what may, together we can conquer the toughest way.

This edition of Xpress is a salute to the unnering spirit of educators, students and parents who have dared to tread against the tides of time. A dire need for schools is felt more than ever in the current time and thus learning can't be quarantined as the people are.

Never before has it become as pertinent as it is today to accentuate skill building over marks. Hence there is an exigency to emerge together as harbingers of an enlightened tomorrow. The post pandemic scenario is altogether disparate and it calls for a radical shift. The endeavours would surely see a two-fold increase if all the stakeholders are in complete accord. Let's resolve to make the foundation constant for its longevity and security. Let's armour Gen x for the metamorphic world.

Sukhbir Kaur (Editor)

*You left us inspired, your love is still our guide.
Thou we can't see you, you are always by our side.*

A humble reverence to an epitomic soul, Mahatma Satyanand ji Munjal on his 104th birth anniversary by BCM family. The dedicatory celebrations started with students reciting stimulating couplets endorsing the prominence of education and knowledge in one's life. A documentary on the life of Hero Cycles' Patriarch was also showcased. Afterwards, everyone bowed down with gratitude before the man who created an exemplary history. The school faculty paid deep obeisance to the great mahatma and stated that his legacy would continue to inspire all to lead a virtuous life, walking on the path of righteousness.
